

ABSTRACT

The online music player is advancing with the innovation with different genres of music being uploaded on the web. People these days prefer to listen to music different genre online instead of downloading them which makes them spend the storage of their devices. The internet has enhanced so much that it has made easy to achieve all these with less expenditure. User can just create an account in the site and can surf different available resources. The main objective of this project is to allow user to go through all kinds of music of different genre online. The songs are basically stored in the database and is directly connected to web. This project will also allow the users to create a playlist of their own, surf their favourite albums and artists, and also find out the musical shows happening nearby just by creating an account on their name.